Sub: Performance Report of ZETALUBE – 201

Machine/ Equipment
Merceriser

Previously we were using multipurpose grease in the same application. It used to wash out due to water contamination and we were facing severe problems of frequent bearing failure because of grease washout, we used to do regressing every month despite of that every 3 months there was bearing failure. As this machine is very much critical in our process any stoppage due to any failure was resulting in production loss.

Five months ago we have decided to use ZETALUBE -201 for the same application. Bearings are running fine till today without regressing or any failure. We have noticed that ZETALUBE – 201 stays in its place even if water comes in contact and it does not wash out.

We are satisfied with the performance of ZETALUBE lubricants and services of their engineers and confidently recommend these products to anyone interested on prolonging the life their machinery and reduce maintenance cost.
